Revision Date: October 18, 2019

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR SMYRNA BAPTIST CHURCH
7000 PENSACOLA BLVD
PENSACOLA, FLORIDA

What is a Policies and Procedures Manual?

A Church Policies and Procedures Manual is a reference guide to the functions and operations of the church. It lists routine duties and answers questions that arise as duties are performed. The procedure section gives step by step instructions for performing each task.

What Is A Policy?

A Policy is a statement that defines the authority required, boundaries set, responsibilities delegated, and guidelines, established to carry out a function of the church. In other words, policies tell who does the task, why it is done, and, under what conditions it is done. Policies answer questions that arise during unique circumstances.

Policies provide uniform treatment of a situation, thus achieving continuity of operation. Policies take personalities out of the picture. Decisions are based on the church policy not on the individual, and each situation is treated the same.

What Is A Procedure?

Procedures tell how a task is done (policy is carried out). A detailed listing is made of each step taken to complete the process. A step by step description of the process is used to complete the job.

POLICY

Church program activities meetings, fellowships, recreation, musical programs) may be scheduled by staff, organization directors (Fourth Qtr. Saints Director), and Sunday School teachers.

The Pastor, Church Staff and Area Leaders (trustee, kitchen, etc.) will coordinate the scheduled events for the church calendar.

Program activities and group meetings not under the direction of Pastoral staff will not conflict with the regularly scheduled services of the church (morning and evening worship, Sunday school, midweek prayer service).

Use of the building for other than church-sponsored activities is subject to the church policy on use and space available. When a conflict arises, church activities take priority over sponsored activities on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Youth Ministry Committee

Purpose: It provides an organizational plan for key adults working with youth in the youth program areas as well as representative youth and parents to meet together to plan and evaluate ministry goals and projects.

It involves youth and adults along with the Minister of Youth in the planning and decision making process. A practical philosophy of a shared ministry means that youth and adults are able to offer insights and experiences in planning events and are able to bring unique gifts and talents into youth programming. Young people can significantly contribute in the leadership role of the youth group. When youth are allowed and encouraged to assume meaningful leadership roles at church, they invariably become more confident in assuming leadership roles in other organizations.

It helps ensure youth involvement in church life. Youth will support activities and programs they help plan. Youth genuinely feel they are being heard and are being given a responsible position alongside adults.

It can be a catalyst to help build a common bond of purpose. In a youth group the Youth Ministry can more easily assimilate the goals of individual youth into group objectives.

Because the Youth Ministry Committee's adult membership is composed of key leaders from the youth organizations, those organizations will be stronger. Strong program organizations are the heart of an effective youth ministry.

Qualification for Teachers-Leaders

We have asserted that persons are the most important educational force in the church. There are two qualifications without which individuals should not be entrusted with the faith-lives of growing disciples.

The first of these is that the teacher must be a person of real faith. So many of the unstructured teaching events will be dominated by those who have halted in their life of faith. The structured teaching events must not be surrendered to those who are not working at their own faith. If teachers are to lead others in growth in discipleship, then they must be persons who are seeking to mature in their own expressions of belief.

The qualification is not that all teachers must be fully mature in their faith; it is that they have a measure of maturity and the commitment to grow toward more wholeness. The teacher must not, however, teach with the desire to influence everyone to believe exactly how he or she does. Such position is contrary to the teaching of Scripture (we are each priests unto God) and to the affirmation that the Holy Spirit may work uniquely among different persons. But the teacher must be a person of conviction and willing to express those convictions and make them available to the students.

A second qualification for those who teach in the intentional program of instruction is that they be persons who love and who are willing to develop skill in sharing that love. Much of the educating that is part of faith is helping persons understand how persons should love the Lord with all their minds, hearts, and souls, and to love their neighbors as themselves (Matt. 22:34-40). Those who are afraid of love being overemphasized in the teaching ministry of the church would probably be offended by the ministry of Jesus. When Jesus was asked to reduce the law to its most important dimensions, he affirmed the need to love God and other human beings.

One simply cannot teach the faith of the gospel of Jesus Christ apart from some firsthand experience with loving and caring. Long after students will have forgotten the point of the Sunday school lesson, they will clearly remember the teachers who cared for them, who rejoiced and cried with them, and who encouraged and chided them. As persons are taught by individuals who are on the growing side of faith and love, the gospel becomes, in its own miraculous way, incarnate once again. Only to talk about such things as faith and love is like trying to learn about a symphony by only studying the musical score. One may be able to understand what the music would sound like, but the lesson becomes real when the symphony is heard.

Scripture speaks of those whose gift is teaching. Teaching is a skill, and skills require training and development. Teachers who are willing to develop skills should be selected.
